Hongrova, 5th December, 1865. DEAR SIE .- Though I am one of the Canine nos I flatter myself that I poreres as much intelligence as many of my human friends, possibly more than some. I have therefore ventured to offer an epinion through your columns on the subject of the Public Gardens and the frequenters thereof. Permit me to say that I agree most degether in the wrong; he is evidently some old Rogey who having long passed the "Meyya Cam-mino di questa vita" that his friend Dante talks about, is too short sighted to observe what every one else our not avoid noticing, or is lost in the clouds of his own creation. But to vature to my "Mutten bone" I dont see that it is at all fair that I as a respectable male Dog (I'm a large black Retriever) should be excluded from the Jardans, whilst the other sex are admitted; know that I may enter "if led" but so may Chair Coolies (vide no ice as the gots) and I do'nt fancy being classed with creatures of that kind. brought up before the Police Commissioner ! Publin. Mr. Barry, Q.O., opened the case for the Grown, and charged the prisoners not only with transon, but with intending to messacre the aristourney and redistribute property. In support of the latter charge he produced a variety of doouamong them two extraordinary letters. One, signed J. O'Dohorty (Major), was addressed to Mr. O'Leary, one of the acoused, and recommended "the hurning of all crops growing, and Yard, containing Five Bab Rooms, Directed AND the horaling of all the cattle on the lands " from i which tenents may have been evicted. This letter was dated October, 1863, but was found in O'heary's postession. The other was addressed by C M. O'Keeffe, a man of some literary protensions, and one of the accessed, to Mr. Luby, another of the prisoners, and recommended in very well-writteh words that the pristocracy of Ireland should be first written down and then killed by the people, after the French example. The news from New Zealand shows that the colonial forces are already doing more without the military than the military have for a long time dine. General Dameron, as we mentioned last weekeland resigned. Five regiments were to return ammediately. An attack by the natives on the colonial troops had been repulsed with heavy loss. A pah and 37 prisoners had been taken by these colonial troops, and their success has appnrently had a considerable influence in supporting the Ministerial policy, for the address of Mr. Wold and his Ministers had been carried in the Lower House without a division and in the Upper by 18 to 2. The troops and General Ormeron will prohably prove to have been a mere delay to the settlement of this wearing quarrel.

The defeat of the Paraguayans on the 17th August appears to have been a real but not a creditable one. Flores, General of the Argentine forces, was, when he met the enemy at Zatay, i command of 9,000 men, with 40 pieces of rifle cannon. The Paragonyans were only 3,000, and when broken by the first attack were pursued by 4,000 cavalry, and slaughtered remoteclessly, 1,700 falling on the field. Flores in his despatch affirms that they would be killed, that "no human nower gould make them surrender, " and then in the same despatch appounces that he has taken, 1,700 prisonors. The battle evidently was massacre, for which the Paragasyans will figh the harder. On the other hand the Brazilian fleet, which was to have attacked the Paraguayan for Hummits, bas retreated down the river, losing two of its stenmers and many man en route from undersigned form a portion, situated at the Corthe fire of the Paraguayan batteries.
